

MBA Fast Track Program for Asian & Asian American Studies Majors

This program is an option for Stony Brook undergraduate students from certain majors, including Asian & Asian American Studies, who would like to diversify their academic experience to include business.

Students in the program apply in their Sophomore or Junior year, and begin taking MBA classes while they are still an undergraduate. Up to 15 MBA credits can be counted towards your undergraduate degree.

Eligible Students:

- Have a 3.2 or higher GPA
- Prerequisite: 3-credit calculus class with grade of C or higher

About the Program:

The MBA Fast Track Program is a competitive program specifically designed to give high-achieving Stony Brook students with an undergraduate major in a field other than business, the opportunity to earn their undergraduate degree and an MBA in one additional year.

- No application fee
- No GMAT/GRE required
- No previous business knowledge required

Application Deadlines:

Spring - November 15

Summer - March 15

Fall - April 15

Interested students should email cobgraduate@stonybrook.edu and can also visit stonybrook.edu/business.