2021-2022

Georges E. Fourn Education Legacy Scholarship

Professor Fourn has taught thousands of students and over 200 undergraduate and graduate classes. Many of his former students still reach out to him for professional advice and support. However, what Professor Fourn is most proud of are the number of teachers he has and continues to train and develop during his tenure at Stony Brook.

This scholarship has been established to support either undergraduate or graduate students at Stony Brook who have a passion for teaching underserved, immigrant, and at-risk communities.

Students who are eligible to apply for and receive this scholarship must meet the following criteria:

- Be enrolled as a full-time undergraduate or graduate student at Stony Brook
- Demonstrate high academic achievement as defined by Stony Brook policy
- Preference is given to students who demonstrate financial need based upon the completion of a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), as determined by the Office of Financial Aid and Scholarship Services
  - Graduate students who receive other donor-funded or institutional support may have this scholarship applied to support non-tuition expenses as long as it does not exceed the recipients total cost of attendance, as determined by the Office of Financial Aid and Scholarship Services.
  - Undergraduate students participating in the New York State's Excelsior Scholarship are not eligible for tuition support. For those students, the Georges E. Fourn Education Legacy Scholarship is solely and exclusively for non-tuition expenses as determined by the Office of Financial Aid and Scholarship Services.

A recipient may forfeit the scholarship if he/she:

- Does not enroll full-time as defined by Stony Brook policy
- Fails to remain in high academic standing as defined by Stony Brook policy
- Is found guilty of academic dishonesty and/or violates Stony Brook's Code of Conduct
