

Trace, Blood, and Native Authenticity

A Talk with
Joseph M. Pierce

November 5th, 2015
7 P.M. – 8:30 P.M.
Black Box Cabaret

Join us in a talk Joseph M. Pierce on indigenous identities and native authenticity.

Joseph M. Pierce, is a citizen of the Cherokee Nation, Assistant Professor of Latin American Literature at Stony Brook University (SUNY) and Communications Director of La Poderosa Media Project. His research focuses on discourses of kinship, gender, and sexuality in Latin America and on the intersection of Latin American and North American approaches to citizenship and belonging.

For disability accommodations and more info regarding this event please contact:
Valerie Grace Aoin at vamoin@csumb.edu.