

Fred Gardaphe is Distinguished Professor of English and Italian/American Studies at Queens College/CUNY and the John D. Calandra Italian American Institute. He directed the programs in American and Italian American Studies at SUNY-Stony Brook. He is a Fulbright Fellow and founding editor of the journal Voices in Italian Americana and editor of the Series in Italian American Culture at SUNY Press. His many books, articles in journals, newspapers, and edited books on Italian American subjects. He is also a fiction writer and playwright, and currently working on a memoir, a one-man show and a study of humor and irony in Italian American culture.