

ACADEMIC JUDICIARY REPORT

(FALL 2020- FALL 2021)

	FALL 2020	WINTER 2021	SPRING 2021	SUMMER 2021	FALL 2021
REPORTED ACCUSATIONS	302	3	264	57	43 (ongoing)
NOT APPEALING	238	1	209	41	38 (ongoing)
APPEALING	64	2	55	16	5 (ongoing)
FOUND RESPONSIBLE	56	2	47	14	ongoing
FOUND NOT RESPONSIBLE	8	0	8	2	ongoing

Data provided by Wanda Moore and her office. Interpretation and comments are my own.

Academic Integrity reminders

Prevention & planning

- Make expectations about doing one’s own work very clear and keep them salient
 - This includes clear rules about citation, collaboration, etc.
- Be sure students know where they stand throughout the course so they have time to regroup if they are in danger
- When possible, include assignments done incrementally and/or with a personal element.
- Watch for obvious cheating mechanisms like phones and now, watches

- Plan to check for possible academic integrity violations
 - Leave time for this; have a good process
 - Don’t rely solely on “noticing”

- Regularly check online “study” sites for materials from your class and get them removed.

Processing of accusations

- Student is sent accusation materials including evidence and recommended penalty
- Wanda Moore meets with the student to discuss and explain options
- If a student appeals the accusation there is a hearing based on the original accusation materials.
- Wanda Moore's office and the hearing board do not formally investigate accusations
- Accusations are based on materials and arguments made by the accuser
- Student may submit materials for their appeal up until shortly before the hearing.

Hearing board members needed!

- AJC committee staffs the hearings but
- Additional faculty are needed because of the nature of the timetable with hearings
- The majority of hearings are concentrated in a short period after end of term
- It's interesting and educational!

We are considering the best way to get additional faculty participants

Step 1 is simply to ask YOU Faculty

If interested (it IS interesting!) email:

Academic_Judiciary@stonybrook.edu

OR

Marie.Huffman@stonybrook.edu

Thanks and Kudos to Wanda Moore and her support staff for all they do!

Fall 2021 so far

Category of Offense	Number of Cases- Fall 2021
Plagiarism-online resource	23
Plagiarism - another student	10
Plagiarism - text	4
prohibited online resource (chegg, wechat, groupchat, etc)	3
Use of external resources	3
unauthorized collaboration,	2
Use of electronic device	2
Submitting unoriginal work	2
Altering documentation	1
Self-Plagiarism	1